1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. The wind was biting, and the clouds were thick and grey. I had heard that the weather was bad, but I didn't realize it would be this bad. The pilot announced that we would be landing in the next few minutes. I looked out the window and saw a dark, stormy sea.
The plane descended, and the rain started pouring down. I closed my eyes and prayed for a smooth landing. The plane touched down, and the rain continued to pour. I opened my eyes and looked out the window. The rain was still pouring, and the sea was dark and choppy. I took a deep breath and stepped out of the plane.
The rain was cold, but it felt good. I looked up at the sky and saw a bright light. It was the sun, breaking through the clouds. I smiled and took another deep breath. The rain was still pouring, but I didn't mind. I was finally here.

My dear Mr. Smith
I have just received your letter of the 10th inst. and am glad to hear from you. I am well and hope this finds you the same. I have been thinking much lately of the old days and the friends we have left behind. It seems so long since we were all together. I hope you are all happy and enjoying life. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in the same place and doing the same work. I hope to hear from you again soon.
